3 MANSFIELDERS, 2 OTHERS KILLED IN WEEK-END TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Dr. Wain Renews Warning

Sees Epidemic Lasting a Month

The diarrhea epidemic which has killed five infants in a month in Mansfield's suburban areas probably will continue to September, City-County Health Commissioner Harry Wain said today.

Dr. Wain said: "Until there is proper water and sewage disposal, the cases will continue and we can expect more deaths."

Three infants, all under one year of age, are now ill at Mansfield General hospital from the malady.

The disease was described as "infantile diarrhea" by Dr. Wain. He said it is a disease that took a great toll among children in cities 40 or 50 years ago, but with modern sanitary precautions, its ravages have been reduced sharply.

Spread of the diarrhea is by an organism in the body waste of those who have contracted the disease, he said. The organism can be carried by food, the hands, flies or water.

Children in their first year of life are especially susceptible, Dr. Wain said. All five children who died of the disease were under one year of age, he added. The incident is much higher among bottle fed babies, Dr. Wain said.

CALLED 'POWDER KEG'

Mansfield's suburban area was termed "a powder keg" that could infect children living under more sanitary conditions within the city where there is public water and sewage systems.

Caution and cleanliness in handling infants, especially those under two years of age, was given as one preventative by Dr. Wain.

In the areas with no city water supply, all water should be regarded with suspicion, he said.

Open toilets were listed as a "basic cause" for the outbreak of the disease. by Dr. Wain. These toilets should be limed down and sealed so they are fly proof, he said.

"Hand washing before handling any of a baby's food is extremely important." he added. Suppression of flies by the use of netting was recommended.

A small amount of money has been made available by the local chapter of the American Red Cross to help families purchase the essential equipment for sanitation. These essentials were listed as including nursing bottles, nipples, containers for boiling the bottles, and netting.

Health department nurses and sanitarians are in the area going from door to door to teach sanitation, Dr. Wain said.

B-B Pellets Injure Boy

An eight-year-old Harmon avenue boy escaped serious injury when he was struck by pellets from a B-B gun, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Officers said the youth, Joseph Duncan, was struck in the back of the head and the right leg Saturday night.

His injuries were termed only flesh wounds and he was treated at his home.

Deputies said they found the boy who fired the shots and confiscated the air gun.

The shooting was the first reported in several weeks in the north end of the city where police and sheriff's officers investigated a number of injuries from gunfire last spring.

Cite 'Fence' In Robbery

PARIS — (UP) — The newspaper France Soir said today that an unnamed American has been identified by French police as a "fence" for the bandits who robbed the Aga Khan of $785.000 worth of jewelry last week.

The newspaper said Marseille police identified the American as "master mind" of a gang specializing in the disposal of stolen jewelry.

Hero Saves Ohio Village From Flames

OTTAWA — (INS) — Leroy Hunt was the hero of Putnam county today, credited with saving the village of Ottawa from a $35,000 oil fire which destroyed a 60-by-100 foot Dupont service company building Sunday.

Hunt took his life in his hands when he approached a smoking 55,000 gallon gasoline tank and turned the valve to cork up the gasoline in danger of catching fire.

Firemen from Kalida, Ottoville and Oakwood said the blaze apparently started in a store room which housed alcohol and oil. They kept the big tanks cool until the oil-fed flames burned themselves out and the danger of a spreading blaze was gone.

City's Phone Proposal Tops Newark

Survey Discloses $3.50 Difference

If the Mansfield Telephone company's requested rate increase is granted a 'phone here will cost as much as $3.50 more monthly than the same service in Newark, O., a city in Mansfield's population class.

A News - Journal survey of existing telephone rates in Newark disclosed the rate for a 10-party - line rural business phone is $3 a month. Requested rate of $6.50 a month for this same service is included in the Mansfield Telephone company's application now before the Putlic Utilities Commission of Ohio.

In the comparison of rates the Mansfield company's charge for service with a cradle - type 'phone is used, since the Newark company has no additional charge for this type of telephone.

If the Mansfield company is granted the requested increase, a single - party line in the city will cost $1 more a month than the same 'phone in Newark. Mansfield's rate would be $4 a month; Newark's rate is $3 a month.

"Newark Telephone company has improved its service by adding to and moderizing its equipment, and there has been no increase in rates requested since 1940," the Newark Chamber of Commerce reported.

"There is no extra charge for calls handled by the company's exchanges in nearby rural com-

U. S. Chiefs End Tour

LONDON — (AP) — America's top military planners concluded today a whirlwind tour of the Atlantic pact countries, aimed at cementing them into a solid defense wall.

In 10 conference-packed days, Chief of Naval operation Adm. Louis Denfeld, Army Chief of staff Gen. Omar Bradley and Air Force Chief Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg covered western Europe by air.

They appeared mainly to be studying means of reaching airtight military unity among the 10 pact members—unification of strategic planning and of the command functions of their pooled armed forces.

They inspected the U. S. Army of occupation in Germany. They met with British, Norwegian, and Danish military chiefs in London and conferred with French, Portuguese, Dutch and Belgian military delegations in Paris.

The staff chiefs' trip ended in Vienna yesterday with an inspection of American forces in Austria. Today, they will return to Washington.

Russia Asks U. N. To Quit Palestine

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. — (AP) — Russia asked the United Nations today to get out of Palestine and leave the settlement of the Holy Land problem to Israel and her Arab neighbors.

Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin suggested that the U. N. security council withdraw its team of observers from the Near East and dissolve the U. N. Palestine conciliation commission.

75-Cent Pay Floor Debated

Foes Plan Stiff Fight

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House waded today into its second big labor debate of the year. This one is on whether to hike the national minimum wage from 40 cents an hour to 75.

The Democratic party's campaign pledge of last fall to raise the minimum and broaden coverage of the 1938 wage-hour act was up for redemption.

It faced the same determined, well organized foes as the still-unredeemed campaign pledge to repeal the Taft-Hartley law.

Democratic leaders were backing a compromise bill introduced last week by Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich.) of the House Labor committee. Many southern Democrats and Republicans were lined up tentatively behind a measure sponsored by Rep. Lucas (D-Texas), a Labor committee member.

LABOR ACTIVE

House members reported Labor unions active in drumming up support for the compromise. It falls short of the original administration bill in its coverage of workers.

"The town is jumping with lobbyists on this thing," said one Labor committee Democrat.

The debate was expected to rage most, if not all, of the week.

A minimum wage bill was the first administration labor measure to reach Capitol Hill after the new Congress got to town last January. This bill would have raised the minimum from 40 cents to 75 and eventually $1, and brought millions of new workers in under the wage-hour act.

Heat Wave To Remain Several Days

The heat wave is here to stay for several days.

Mansfielders who are tired of hot weather were given little hope for relief as the weather bureau predicted temperatures would rise above the 90 mark today. Tomorrow temperatures will climb even higher with a range between 92 and 96 degrees expected. Fair skies will hold until Wednesday when scattered showers are possible, the forecaster said.

At 10:30 a. m. today Mansfield's temperature already had reached yesterday's high of 83 recorded at 3:30 p. m. The low for the 24-hour period ending at 7:30 a. m. today was 67 at 6 a. m. Only a trace of rainfall was recorded in the 24-hour period.

As a possible word of comfort to sweltering Ohioans, the weatherman reported temperatures in North Dakota soared to a sizzling 108 degrees yesterday. This same heat mass is moving toward Ohio, but will be considerably modified in its passage across the lakes, he added.

BUCKIN' BRONCO—A truck can sometimes be as stubborn as a mule. Pawing the air with its front wheels, this overloaded truck refused to climb the hill at Bowman and West Third streets this morning. A load of soft drinks tilted the front end of the truck skyward at about 9 a. m. as it was going up the grade. The five men attempting to lower the truck met with no success until part of the load was transferred to another truck. The truck is owned by the Mansfield Truck Runners and leased by the Akron and Chicago Transportation, Inc.

Fear 5,000 Dead

Airlift Rushing Aid To Quake Zone

QUITO, Ecuador —(UP)— The Ecuadorean government organized a powerful airlift today to rush food and supplies to the earthquake center 70 miles south where the mounting death toll was reported to have reached 5,000.

Planes of every type and description took off at the rate of one every 10 minutes for the flight to Ambato, a thriving industrial and farming city of 20,000 that was completely destroyed by Friday's series of quakes.

President Galo Plaza Lasso reported to the nation that the six cities of Ambato, Guano, Pelilo, Pillao, Patate and Salcedo were destroyed.

The death toll, he said in a radio broadcast after spending 40 hours in the disaster area, had reached 5,000 and there were an estimated 20,000 injured. The town of Pelilo, he said, was obliterated.

"Of 3,500 inhabitants, only 300 were left," he told the nation in an appeal for contributions to the Quito blood bank for earthquake victims.

A farmer from Pelilo, who arrived in Quito carrying his injured daughter in his arms, said only 80 persons remained in Pelilo. All others were killed or fled to the countryside, he said.

Rescue workers who reached the town of Guano, near Ambato in the quake area, could not find a single survivor from among the 6,000 inhabitants. All had been killed or had fled, they said.

Earthquake damage spread across an area of 4,000 square miles with a population of 100,000. Seventy per cent of all houses in the area were destroyed, rescue workers reported.

Airlift planes on their return journey from Ambato brought injured victims for treatment in Quito's hospitals. Government and private planes both flew the airlift.

Pan-American Grace Airways planes joined the airlift and it was understood that the American Caribbean Air Command also would help.

Battle To Check Fire

13 Dead, Vast Area Burned Out

HELENA, Mont.. — (INS) — A forest fire that has claimed 13 lives and blackened 6,000 acres in west - central Montana was expected to be under control late today.

The fire broke out Friday in the "gates of the mountain" area.

The thirteen dead have been identified.

Bodies of the dead were returned from the scene of the tragedy to Hilger Landing on the Missouri river, and then to Helena by automobiles.

The landing was crowded with watercraft of many kinds, all commandeered to carry men and equipment down the river to the inferno.

High winds swept the area, and it was feared giant tongues of flame would vault a mountain ridge and reach a valuable forest to the west.

A secondary fire was burning in Bull Run gulch to the east of the major blaze.

A heavy toll in big game also was feared. An eyewitness said that deer were fleeing ahead of the fire, many of them in such haste that they ran into the river and swam across.

Aimed At Better Understanding

'Story of Retail Business' To Be Told

What does it take to make a retail business "click?"

What is it behind the sales counters that makes it possible for a shopper in Mansfield to buy anything from a heavy power-driven farm implement to a diaper pin?

These questions and hundreds of others are going to be answered by Mansfield businessmen for their customers in the trading territory which includes not only the thousands of homes in Mansfield but extends to all the families living within 25 to 30 miles in each direction from Central park.

The answers will be presented in the interest of better understanding between Mansfield retail business and families of North-Central Ohio who look to the Mansfield business section to supply the myriad things they use in their daily life.

Today, a group of 52 Mansfield businessmen launched in The News-Journal a series of full page advertisements explaining the "hows" and "whys" of retail business. Their messages will take the problems of a typical family and show how their buying power and shopping habits shape the policies and operation methods of the stores of Mansfield.

The first advertisement in the series is on Page 6 of today's News-Journal.

Use of newspaper columns to promote understanding of the two sides of the merchandising problem—the buyers' and the sellers'—is not a new idea, but the co-operative application of the plan by a group of unaffiliated retail merchants is new.

Large industrial organizations do the same thing to bring their behind-the-scenes stories to the people upon whom they rely to buy and use their products. In presenting the series of messages on their operations, Mansfield businessmen feel that this contribution to mutual understanding will help them to operate better and to pass along improved services and better-buying opportunities to all the families they serve.

Additional messages, developing the theme of co-operation between merchants and consumers will appear each week in The News-Journal, whose advertising columns provide the shopping guide for the North-Central Ohio trading area.

Signs of Changing Times: Script Writer Now Has More To Look For

NEW YORK—In the old days a Hollywood script writer had very little to live for.

He supported a house or two, a wife or three, some children, a few servants—and a five-star ulcer. This brought him little happiness for, after all, he was only a writer.

And in the hierachy of Hollywood a writer was just a $1,500-a-week object of charity. His forlorn paper dream—the script—was hacked by the producer, misconceived by the director, ambushed by the actors, and left writhing on the floor by the film cutter.

The only thing left of his original product — in many cases—was a comma here and there. And you can't hear a comma on the screen.

Today all this is changed. It is now possible for movie writers to get ahead in the world without marrying the daughter of the man who owns the studio. There is a happy ending for them now, too.

They can work their way up to become directors, producers and — yes — even film cutters. Some of them now write, produce, direct, and cut the film. They run the show from idea to screen.

This is all to the good — in the opinion of Sidney Buchman, who spent a decade as a writer before he became a producer.

"In some studios 75 per cent of the producers are writers or former writers," he said. "And about half are carrying out both functions."

Buchman, 47, is an expressive-featured man who looks and gestures more like Ezio Pinza or John Barrymore than a man who got his callouses studying a typewriter.

"If a man has the skill to write a fine script," he said, "he certainly should have the judgment to carry it out — to know whether a set is right or a costume is right.

"When a writer trying to implement his work in film first comes down from the ivory tower, he falters a bit, then takes to it like a duck takes to water.

"After all who has a better understanding of the script than the man who writes it? Why shouldn't he be able to pick and direct the cast and see that they carry out his own conception? And as for cutting the film, what is that but another rewriting techinque?"

Buchman himself wrote such scripts as "The Sign Of The Cross," "Theodora Goes Wild," "Mr. Smith Goes To Washington," and "Here Comes Mr. Jordan."

He became a producer in 1937 and is best known for his music dramas, including "A Song To Remember," based on the life of Chopin. His latest is "Jolson Sings Again," a Columbia production.

"I like the music drama form and I want to do more," he said.

"The phase of our cultural life that people are least acquainted with is great music, and they don't know the importance of this type of genius. The great composers contribute as much to the world as any man."

Buchman plans to make films presenting more classical and operatic music, climaxed finally by a picture on Beethoven's life.

"That one," he said, "would have to be right. The others could be only practice pieces for it."

Cynical Film Capital Doubts Ingrid Bergman Will Retire

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — This cynical film capital will believe Ingrid Bergman's retiring from acting if and when it sees it.

The announcement that she will divorce Dr. Peter Lindstrom was taken in stride; it had been predicted for months.

But as for giving up her career, Hollywood observers doubt that she can stay away from her first love, acting. One insider put it:

"She is acting like a poker player who wants to get out of the game and have time to count his chips and see how the cards are going."

Her recent critical flops (Arch of Triumph and Joan of Arc) added to her emotional turmoil, say some. But she can still get $200,000 per picture from any studio in town. So they ask: how long can she pass that up?

TOLD TENANTS AWAY

A tenant on the second floor apartment told police a man about 20 years old stopped at his apartment at 5:30 p. m. selling vegetables. He said he told the man no one else was at home in the building.

Mrs. Ruth Bowman, of 55½ East Fourth street, said someone apparently checked out her locker basket while she was swimming with her daughter. She said $5 was stolen from the basket. She found the money was missing at 6 p. m. Sunday

Only a few pennies were found by burglars who ransacked the Simon Small and Sons Coal company, 45 Surry road. Police found a window on the southwest side of the office building was raised about two inches when on patrol at 8 p. m. Sunday.

The race for three Madison township school board posts finds three newcomers in the field. Those who filed include Lewis J. Cashell, Max McFarland and Vern A. Hagerman.

Herbert D. Trout, for Sharon school board; Loren Wiles and H. Clayton Eckert, for Lexington school board; Gerald F. Miller and Paul Stoodt, for Plymouth school board; Jesse Hamman and Wallace Harnly, for Shiloh school board.

Others who filed are Carl J. Coe, for Bellville village clerk; Glenn W. Dick, for Plymouth village treasurer; Howard McDanel, for Jefferson township trustee; Whitney J. Briggs and Harry S. Trauger, both for Plymouth council; Gordon Brown, for Plymouth village board of public affairs; Ami Jacobs, for Shiloh board of public affairs;

Paul B. Ruckman, for Shiloh council; Ray Kirkendall, for Cass township trustee; Levi R. Snyder, for Springfield township trustee; Hugh Osbun, for Weller township trustee; Earl Bryan, for Troy township trustee, and Cecil R. Brokaw, for Jefferson township trustee.

The deadline for filing for village, township and school board offices is 6:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Only $11 Short

The 1948 YMCA rehabilitation fund fell less than $11 short of its $15,000 goal, not $11,000 short as reported in yesterday's News-Journal. Sunday's report also said $1,489.13 was collected. A comma was dropped somewhere in the figure, for the 'Y' received $14,989.13 for the rehabilitation of its building.

"There's a lighter side to our worship today," Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell told members of the First Lutheran church worshipping in the Madison theater yesterday morning. "For instance, I'm afraid we'll get so used to these comfortable seats that we'll mind going back to our wooden ones. "However," he added, "it isn't a building that makes a church but the Word of God and this is a church today just as much as our own sanctuary." First floor seats of the theater were almost filled yesterday morning for the service.

Vets To Elect Today

Vote To Boost National Dues

Sheiby's O'Brien post, American Legion, band won one of the four top places in the state Legion band contest in Columbus over the week-end. The contest was held in connection with the state Legion convention.

Other winners were the Kent, Canton and Salem bands.

Scores of Mansfielders were among the estimated 80,000 who watched the colorful Legion parade yesterday.

The Legionnaires were to conclude their annual session today with election of officers at a business session.

Roy A. Cox, superintendent of schools in Byesville, Guernsey county, and a World War I veteran, will oppose Bruce P. Henderson, Warren attorney, for the job now held by Carl W. Smith of Kenton, a First World war vet. Smith won last year over J. D. Sawyer of Middletown, a Second World War vet.

Cox is now first vice-commander of the Ohio department. He was a machine gunner in World War I.

Henderson has been commander of the Warren post and has served one term as state Legion judge advocate and three years as an officer on a Legion national committee.

In addition to election of officers, delegates will consider approximately 60 additional resolutions and committee reports.

MEET IN CLEVELAND

The Legionnaires voted yesterday to hold the 1950 convention in Cleveland. They also adopted 10 resolutions and staged an hour-and-a-half parade.

Among the resolutions approved were those which:

Raised national dues 25 cents per year and earmarked that amount for veterans' rehabilitation;

Urged the state to designate non-passing areas on highways in school zones outside corporation limits;

Asked greater protection in federal jobs for disabled veterans with a 30 per cent or more disability;

Urged compensation and pension equality for widows and orphans of veterans of both World wars; and

Asked Congress to increase government burial allowances for veterans from $150 to $250.

More than 40 musical organizations participated in the parade down Columbus' High street. The Elyria post 12 drum and bugle corps, which placed second in the annual state contest Saturday night, won the parade trophy for the best senior drum and bugle corps in the march.

Other parade awards went to Canton post 44, best senior band; Wendell Willkie post 19, Akron, best junior drum corps; band of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans Home, best junior band; Lakewood mounted color guard, best color guard; William Hruby, Elyria, best drum major, and Clarence Hyde post 278, of Warren, best drill team.

Other officers chosen by the auxiliary included:

Mrs. Wade Baum, Cleveland, vice-president; Mrs. Arthur Palmer, Columbus, treasurer, and Mrs. Lee E. Moore, Zanesville, secretary.

The 40 et 8 elected Joseph T. Carney of Cincinnati for its principal office, Grand Chef de Gare, succeeding L. O. Garrison, Van Wert. Other officers elected:

Cleveland Drops Pair To Philadelphia A's

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

WOOSTER — Mansfield's Junior baseball program, Hot Stove league version, is not yet two years old. . . . Yet in that time young Mansfielders have developed into two state champions. . . . The program started in 1948 with 25 teams and grew to 38 this year. . . . Ennis Walker, tthe junior ball commissioner, fully expects 45 to 50 teams to be in the swing of things by next June. . . . Ohio Sport Center and Police Recreation club are the champs, yet possibly four or five teams which stayed at home could have beaten the pick of the eight other cities or villages which sent teams into the two tournaments. . . . About the only "kick" Mansfield got was on the size of several of the Sport Center players. . . . Fortunately the 14-year-olds on the Sport Center roster are big for their age. . . . This fact helped the champs to 63 runs and 59 hits in the three tournament games.

★

THE TOURNEY itself was run off with an ease usually not seen in competition embracing 16 teams. . . . Bob Jameson, Wooster: Dick Pierson, Alliance, and Stan Kamen, Mansfield, did a "super" job for the first Hot Stove state meet. . . . Jameson had a crew of perhaps 50 workers helping put over the affair. . . . Plans are already underfoot for a bigger joust in 1950. . . . Cy Butler, national prexy of the Hot Stovers, wants to start the '50 competition with several district meets and then bring the winners to the state tourney. . . . Mansfield and Alliance are No. 1 and No. 2 sites for the '50 competition.

★

AS USUAL Mansfield's biggest detriment will be the lack of playing fields. . . . The three-day meet here was played on five different diamonds, two of which had grass infields. . . . If the Johnny Appleseed and John Todd parks are fully developed, Mansfield might have enough fields to stage a meet. . . . The tournament here was almost a community project. . . . Wooster high school donated its dressing room facilities and Wooster college converted its gymnasium into a dormitory for the youngsters. . . . The college also permitted play on its diamond, one of the finest in the state. . . . These free contributions helped keep the entry fee down.

★

MANSFIELDERS helped make the meet possible. . . . Most of the crowd yesterday was from Mansfield and Yuncker's Sporting Goods donated one of the four trophies which went to the finalists. . . . Nearly four dozen new baseballs were used in the meet and a dozen of them came gratis from Ohio Sport Center. . . . Of course, the dollar membership tickets which Mansfielders "bought" actually made it possible for the Mansfield teams to be playing in the first place.

Tribe Falls Far Behind Yankee Club

CLEVELAND —(INS)— A feeling of depression and gloom accompanied the Cleveland Indians, heads hanging low, back home today to take a one-day rest before resuming their drive to overcome the New York Yankees.

The Philadelphia Athletics dealt the Tribe a severe blow yesterday when they took two games from the defending champs, 5-4 and 4-2, and dropped them five and a half games behind the New York Yankees.

Not only do the Indians have to worry about catching up to the Yanks, but the Boston Red Sox, who dropped their single game to Detroit yesterday, are but one game behind the second-place Redskins.

Bob Feller is slated to pitch tomorrow's game with the St. Louis Browns. The ex-fireballer will be seeking his 10th victory of the year, against eight defeats.

Early Wynn started the first game for the Indians and did a commendable job until the third inning when Elmer Valo hit a home run with two mates aboard. All three runs were unearned, however, because of an error by Manager Lou Boudreau, who bobbled a grounder hit by Mike Guerra, the first batter of the inning. The next two men were easily retired before the A's collected a single and a homer.

Another run was added to the Philadelphia box score in the fourth, however, and one more in the fifth.

CLARK HITS HARD

Cleveland scored its first marker in the fifth on a double by Allie Clark, a ground out and a fly ball. The Tribe added two more in the next inning on Boudreau's fourth homer of the season with Larry Doby on base.

Clark ended the Cleveland scoring in the seventh with a home run over the left field fence.

Lefty Lou Brissie started for the A's and was relieved in the eighth by Charlie Harris. Gene Bearden relieved Wynn for Cleveland in the seventh and Bearden, in turn, was relieved by Satchel Paige in the eighth.

Cleveland fans raised their hopes in the second contest when the Tribe started off by scoring twice in the first inning on three singles, a double and a three-base error. Dale Mitchell opened the canto with a one-base hit and scored when the ball got through Sam Chapman, who was charged with the error.

After that inning, however, all the scoring was done by the Athletics, who chalked up one run in the first and three in the sixth. Al Benton, the starting hurler, was charged with the defeat although he was relieved by Steve Gromek in the sixth. Sam Zoldak took over in the eighth after Gromek was taken out for a pinch hitter.

Lorain Baseball Club Is Winner

LOUDONVILLE — Lorain National Tube came from behind with twelve runs in the last two innings here yesterday to defeat the Loudonville Flxible Clippers, 16-9. Moos and Mitroff hit homers for Lorain.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

BATTING—Elmer Valo and Mike Guerra, Athletics—Valo's three-run homer was the blow of A's opening victory over Indians, 5-4; Guerra collected four hits in eight trips, salting down second game win, 4-2, with two-run single.

PITCHING—Joe Hatten, Dodgers—Shut out Cincinnati with seven hits, 7-0, in first game; stopped Reds 1 blast 12⅔ innings of second game for 2-1 edge when Rex Barney ran into trouble.

TROPHY TIME—Captains of the three Mansfield finalists in the state Hot Stove league tourney get their awards from Bob Jameson, chairman of the competition. James gives the 13-14 year division trophy to Gene Kleer of the Ohio Sport Center team. Ronnie Williams (right) Police, already has the 15-16 bracket title award. Jack Howell (left), Eagles, just looks on. The trophy which the Eagles will receive was delayed in shipment.

Reports Have Gamblers Betting Heavily On Gus

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK—(INS)—Increased support for Gus Lesnevich today pared to 16-5 the odds in favor of Ezzard Charles for their heavyweight title fight at Yankee Stadium Wednesday night.

Charles is recognized as world's champion by the National Boxing association.

Much of the Lesnevich support was reported to have come from New Jersey racketeers and gamblers who understood that both Lesnevich and Manager Joe Vella were betting heavily on an upset.

Whether or not the Lesnevich-Vella reports are true, most boxing men know that the challenger from Cliffside Park, N. J., took a genuine gamble when he accepted the title match with Charles.

Even if Wednesday's bout draws its hoped-for $150,000, the challenger's 25 per cent of the net gate will approximate only $25,000. Of that $25,000, only $15,000 could be regarded as Lesnevich's purse; for he had to give Promoter Sam Becker of Cincinnati $10,000 to release him from a contracted return bout with Joey Maxim on Sept. 19.

Meanwhile, Lesnevich had turned down the probable Cincinnati purse of $20,000; and the probable purse of $25,000 to fight Roland Lastarza at Madison Square Garden Oct. 28; and a purse of at least $50,000 for a return light-heavyweight title fight with Freddie Mills at London in November. Mills won the title from Lesnevich in July, 1948.

If Lesnevich is knocked out or badly beaten by Charles, his value as a drawing card for London, Cincinnati or the Garden will have been lessened.

Moose Golfers Defeat Elyria In Team Play

The Mansfield Moose walloped Elyria, 16½ to 4½, in a match played yesterday on the Possum Run links.

Old Reliable Joe Mayer carried the bulk of the attack for the Mansfielders as he fired a 33-34—67 to tie for medalist honors. Arnold Michaels of Elyria had 32-35—67.

Joe Leonowiecz of Elyria won some sort of mythical prize for the most persistance. He had a 41 opening nine and lay pin high in the swamp on 18 in 35 strokes on the back side. Refusing to lay the ball out he took ten strokes in the swamp for a 14 and an 88 score.

Other Mansfield scores were: Frank Jocha, 34-39—73; Jim Mussille, 36-39—75; Steve Stirtzinger, 40-38—78 and John Jocha, 39-40—79. Jim Cirigliano of Elyria had a 38-37—75.

One foursome not playing in the match was also cutting some fancy capers. Rollie Rachel and Ted Etzel each shot scores of 68 while playing against Lymic Norton and Pete Zeides. Norton had a one-under-par 71 while Zeides blew to a 77. The nine hole cards: Etzel 35-33, Rachel 34-34, Norton 38-33, and Zeides 40-37.

Norton had an eagle three on the 18th hole.

Shelby and Butler Cop County Games

The Shelby Merchants and Butler won Richland County baseball league games yesterday while T. and E. Tavern dropped a non-league game to Cardington.

In the loop, Shelby opened second-half play with a 9-7 conquest of Lucas at Shelby and the Mansfield Hawks bowed at Butler, 11-5. Shelby and Lexington are now tied with 1-0 records for the second half. T. and E. Tavern leads the league with two victories and no defeats.

T. and E. had a rough time yesterday, however, as three home runs were the only scores it could get off the Cardington Merchants in losing 8-3 at Liberty park.

Rich Snavely hit a four-bagger in the first inning and both he and Pete Campbell homered in the sixth. The Taverns' only other hit was a single by Cliff Webb and he died on base.

Cardington meanwhile drove out 11 base knocks and led all the way. It grabbed the advantage with two runs in the top of the first and never let up. Pace, the pitcher, led the attack with three hits in five times at bat.

NEW LONDON WINS

The Hawks were swamped, 28-1, in a night engagement at New London. The game was called at the end of seven innings.

New London manager Al Walters used 16 players as his team pounded out 25 hits to the Hawks two.

Police, Sport Center Win Ohio Junior Titles

PRC Outfit Takes Over Eagles, 4-2

By FRED THARP, News-Journal Sports Editor.

WOOSTER — Mansfield junior baseball teams yesterday completed their domination of Ohio Hot Stove league play by winning two state championships.

The Police Recreation club won the crown in the 15-16 year division while Ohio Sport Center became the champion in the 13-14-year bracket in the first state competition staged by the Ohio chapters of the National Hot Stove league.

To make the domination complete, the Police were forced to defeat another Mansfield team — Fraternal Order of Eagles — in the finale, 4 to 2. The four Mansfield teams which competed in the state meet won eight of ten games. Lumbermens Insurance had been defeated in its only start in the 13-14 tourney Friday.

The big and powerful Sport Center team blasted three balls out of the park in taking over the Lorain East Side Merchants, 18 to 1. Sport Center defeated Apple Creek, 30 to 4, and blasted Wooster McIntire Funeral home, 15 to 3, in its march to the championship.

The undefeated Police team threw its ace Lowell "Dutch" Hess at the Eagles and the little right-hander dished up a fine four-hit offering. Hess had defeated Sebring, 11 to 2, on a three-hitter Friday and was complete master of the game yesterday.

Hess has won eight straight games pitching for the Police.

Only five "boots" by his mates gave the Eagles scoring opportunities. In the second frame, Tommy Tucker singled with one out and Jim Schafer forced the second-sacker. Then two errors plated the first run. The second tally came in the top of the seventh on an error, a walk and Leon Weekley's single.

STARTS ATTACK

Speedy Ronnie Williams got the Police attack started in the second by beating out an infield hit. Clayton Psimer and Williams were both safe on a fielder's choice and the latter proceeded to steal third. Bill Kuelling popped up and Williams scored on Bob Price's infield roller. Jim Altomonte singled home the second run.

Jack Howell, the southpaw stylist of the Eagles, kept the Police in check until the sixth, when Price singled and Altomonte drew a walk. Hess was tossed out at first and Mike Chuhaloff fanned. However, Ralph Bonanata plated two runs with a ringing triple.

Howell was possibly the top hurler in the tourney. He had beaten Lorain Czarnecki in a first round game Friday and then was credited with a victory over Smithville in a four-inning relief stint Saturday. Howell gave up only seven hits in the championship game.

Sport Center scored in every inning to smash Lorain while Skip Burns doled out only two hits. Burns fanned elght but walked six men. The lone run crossed the platter in the fourth inning after the Mansfield club had built up a 14-to-0 lead.

Gene Kleer, Frank Jefferies and Delanio "Satchell" Wright smashed the homers to lead the Sport Center 16-hit attack. Jefferies clouted one over the left field wall in the first with two men on to give Sport Center a 3-0 lead.

DRIVES IN SIX

In the nine-run fourth, Wright smashed a homer over the right field barrier with the hassocks crammed and Kleer banged on 50 feet over the center field wall with none on. Wright also had a single and double to drive in six runs.

Sport Center has won 26 of 28 games.

ONE DIDN'T MAKE IT—The Police may have won the game 4-2 but here is one Police runner that didn't make it in yesterday's Hot Stove league state championship game at Wooster. Eddie Miller of the Police is tagged out at home by Eagles Catcher Bob Hartnett in the fifth inning. Hartnett took a throw from third-baseman Jim Schafer and might have had a double play except that Miller spilled him before he could throw.

Golf Veterans Are Linked In Two-Man Race

CHICAGO — (UP) — A pair of tested golf veterans, leading money winner Sam Snead and defending champion Lloyd Mangrum, were making a two-man race out of the all American open at Tam O'Shanter today.

With each aiming at the $3,333.00 first prize, Mangrum held a one stroke edge on Snead at the midway point of the 72-hole competition. He rolled around the links yesterday in a two-under-par 70 for a 134 total at the end of 36 holes, 10 underpar.

But Snead, who has won three of the big four tournaments this season — the PGA, the Masters and the Western open — was hot on his trail. Sam had a first round score of 67 and yesterday he came home in 68 for a 135.

Both Mangrum and Snead did some scrambling to stay out in front of Herman Barron, White Plains, N. Y., and Johnny Bulla, Verona, Pa., each with 137, and Pete Cooper, Ponte Vedra Beach, Fla., with 138.

Louise Suggs, the Georgia woman ace who had a four under par 72 for her first round, fell back to a 78 for a 150 total, one stroke ahead of Betty Jameson, San Antonio, Tex., pro who had 151.

Arnie Adams 2nd In Junior Golf

Mansfield's Arnie Adams dropped to second place in junior division of the Akron District Golf association medal play tournament yesterday. Adams shot a 78 for a 230 total at the end of 54 holes. Akron's Joe Lazor holds the lead with 225.

Final 18 holes of the tournament will be played next week at the long Seiberling Country club.

Andy Hlas fired a 71 yesterday to take a 15-stroke lead in the Class AA division.

Yankees Blast 5 St. Louis Pitchers; Brown 'Throwers' Hit 4 Yank Batters

NEW YORK — (INS) — The loss of a key man during the thick of a pennant fight can spell doom to a contending team even though the team in question appears to have a comfortable cushion in the standings.

That's the situation that confronts the New York Yankees today. They will be forced to do without the services of catcher Yogi Berra for the next three weeks, a period in which the American league race might be decided one way or another.

Yogi was a casualty of yesterday's wild and wooly first game between the Yanks and the Browns in which the slugging was done both from the plate and from the pitcher's mound.

The New Yorkers proved better than the Browns in the plate-slugging department, battering five St. Louis pitchers for 22 hits and a 20 to 2 win. Berra got his sixteenth homer during the nine run third inning.

But the hard - hitting receiver was sent home for a good in the next inning when he suffered a fractured left thumb after being hit by a pitch thrown by ex-Yankee Dick Starr.

This incident touched off the mound - slugging and the Browns won out in this department. Tommy Henrich, Gerry Coleman and Gus Niarhos were all nicked by errant tosses dished up by St. Louis hurlers.

The nightcap went 10 innings before it was called because of darkness with the teams deadlocked at 2-apiece.

The first game win placed the Yankees 5½ games ahead of Cleveland, who dropped a twin bill to the Athletics, 5 to 4 and 4 to 2.

RED SOX NEXT

They now move up to Boston for a three - game series that starts tomorrow night with the third place Red Sox.

The Boston had their seven-game win streak stopped by Art Hutteman of the Tigers yesterday, who beat them 6 to 4 despite homers by Ted Williams and Vern Stephens.

But Joe McCarthy's charges have won 25 out of their last 33 and really began to live up to their pre-season press notices since July 4. Their pitching and hitting are both clicking and little Dom DiMaggio has hit safely in 34 consecutive games to spark the team.

Lloyd Hittle of the Senators shut out the White Sox 1 to 0 in the second game after Chicago had beaten Washington 4 to 1.

The National league's dizzy race was tied up tighter than a scotchman's wallet today. Brooklyn swept both ends of a double bill from Cincinnati and forced into a tie with the Cards, who beat the Giants 9 to 2 behind George Munger.

Joe Hatten shut out the Reds 7 to 0, aided by homers by Jackie Robinson and Bruce Edwards. The catcher's was a grand - slammer. Johnny Jorgenson won the nightcap with a two-run homer as Hatten came back to relieve starter Rex Barney and preserve his 2 to 1 lead.

Philadelphia took two from Pittsburgh, 7 to 3 and 5 to 4. Hank Borowy won his 10th game in the opener despite a three-run homer by Ralph Kiner, his 28th. Dick Sisler broke up the nightcap with a three-run pinch-hit homer in the ninth.

Warning To Tramps: You Can Be Sent To Pen For Your Career

COLUMBUS — (AP) — If you are a woman or blind, you can't be arrested in Ohio for being a tramp.

But, if you fail to meet those specifications — look out.

Roy Kirk, a tramping Hoosier, found out last year that just the fact of being a tramp was a penitentiary offense. Roy gets out of Ohio Penitentiary Nov. 1 on parole.

Parolee Kirk was tramping through Ohio about a year ago, on his way to his old Indiana home. He stopped in Sidney and ended up with a one to three-year term in the penitentiary at Columbus.

There are a couple of stories about just what happened to Roy in Sidney — his own story and the story of the authorities.

Kirk said he approached the home of Helen Benjamin in Sidney and with disarming candor asked for money with which to buy a drink of liquor.

This wasn't really so bad, explained Kirk, because he wanted it to ease the pain of two ulcerated teeth. He couldn't eat and so he asked only for drinking money, Kirk said. The woman turned him down.

Then, related the Indiana man, he went across the street to the Salvation army and received another turn-down. The police picked him up as he came out of the Salvation army headquarters.

The state said, however, that Kirk was rapped with a penitentiary sentence because he made advances to a woman.

What Kirk didn't know about was Section 13408 of the Ohio Code which reads this way:

"Tramp — whoever, not being a female or blind person and not being in the county in which he usually lives or has his home, begs or asks subsistence by charity and enters a dwelling house, or yard or enclosure about a dwelling house, without the permission of the owner or occupant thereof, or does not, when requested, forthwith leave such place, or is found carrying a firearm or dangerous weapon, or does or threatens to do injury to the person or property of another, shall be imprisoned in the penitentiary not less than one year nor more than three years."

Kirk entered the penitentiary Sept. 13, 1948, and was paroled Thursday, effective Nov. 1.

Kirk never lost to the law on the simple charge of "being a tramp" before, but the parole put an early end to his sixth trip to prison.

Bauer-Stumpf Nuptial Vows Exchanged In Crestline

CRESTLINE—Miss Betty Bauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bauer, North Crestline street, and Joseph J. Stumpf, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stumpf of this city, exchanged nuptial vows Saturday morning, July 30, in a ceremony solemnized in the parsonage of St. Joseph's church at 9 o'clock.

Rev. F. A. Slattery read the double ring service in the presence of the immediate families. For her wedding the bride chose a two piece white silk gaberdine suit with navy accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds. She wore a strand of pearls and matching earrings, a gift from the bridegroom.

Attending the couple were Miss Marcella Koschnick and Lawrence Kohls, both of Galion. Miss Koschnick wore a two piece powder blue gaberdine suit with white accessories and her corsage was of red roses.

The bride's mother was attired in a street length dress of teal blue crepe with which she wore white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a black and white print dress with black accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of red roses.

A dinner and reception was held at the Roxy Restaurant for the bridal party and the immediate families. A color scheme of yellow and green was used in the table decorations. Centering the table was a three tiered wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Stumpf were graduated from Crestline high school. The bride is employed in the office of the Iron Works. Mr. Stumpf served two years in the U. S. navy and saw duty overseas. He is employed at the Metallic Vault company in Galion.

When the couple returns from their wedding trip they will make their home in an apartment at 612½ East Main street, Crestline.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE
For Tuesday, August 9

WHILE enterprise and initiative may be under excellent auguries for putting over major objectives of scope and expansion, the demand is for efficient and well worked-out plans and details on logical and sound foundations. Ability and foresight, well - organized and executed, hold rich promise for outstanding and bold initiative. And yet there is danger from complicated or befogged reasoning or queer mental slants. Indecision, wrong conclusions, wavering, could jeopardize excellent prospects. Study carefully basic soundness, but not emotionally.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may have important and expansive plans for enhancing the fortunes, good luck, and general progress, sound resources or possessions, as well as personal popularity and prestige. Such projects advance on a basis of sound reason, logic and shrewd calculation but might be complicated by hasty, flashy or obscure judgment or imagination, with an inclination to jump at conclusions or to take risks of a speculative or of a rash character. Loss or litigation could follow wrong moves. Refrain as well from sarcastic speech or misrepresentation.

A child born on this day while ambitious and resourceful with high aspirations and initiative, could jeopardize its affairs by rash, ill - considered or vindictive acts or sarcastic speech.

Survey Shows Polio Peak Passed In Most Hard-Hit Areas

Total Tops 9,400 For Near Record

Health Service Notes Decline

(By Associated Press)

More than half again as many polio cases have broken out so far this year as during a similar period last year.

An Associated Press survey showed, however, that there are signs that the peak has passed in some of the hardest hit areas.

During the last four days of the week past — an AP state by state tally showed — 1,400 new cases were reported

This brought the 1949 total to 9,400 cases. The figure was more than half again as high as for the same period in 1948, the second worst infantile paralysis year on record.

In Washington, D. C, the U. S. Public Health service said it noted evidence of a slackening of the upward pace in the country as a whole.

Public health officials in hard-hit Texas, Arkansas, and Detroit had words of cheer.

Dr. George Cox, state health officer of Texas, said he thought the disease had leveled out somewhat. The Lone Star state has had 1,218 cases through June 30, its worst polio year.

A "definite slowdown" was the way the Arkansas Health department described the situation there. Conditions in the state had been termed critical. There had been 537 cases and 32 deaths this year. This compared with 51 cases and no deaths last year.

Dr. Bruce Douglas, City Health commissioner of Detroit said he hoped the "mild epidemic" had passed its peak. One hundred and thirty cases have been reported in the motor city this year.

In other sections of the nation the reports were still ominous: The survey showed that only in Indiana, Kansas, and North Carolina, is the disease proving to be highly fatal.

New Air Training Squadron To Be Formed In Mansfield

Reserve Lt Charles W. Essick has been designated to form and command a Volunteer air training squadron in Mansfield.

Essick was notified by Col Einar A. Malmstrom, deputy for reserve forces of the Ninth Air force, that he had been selected for the post.

The new unit will be known as the 9521st Volunteer Air Training Squadron. Members of the reserve group will not be paid, but will receive points towards promotion. At the termination of 30 years service, including both active and reserve duty, the reserve members receive pensions at three-fourths of the base pay of their rank.

"Points are obtained by attending meetings, by active service and by attending extension courses," Essick said.

Application forms are available at the Army Recruiting Office, 20 South Park street, or at Essick's home, 110 McElroy road Essick is hopeful that 50 members can be "recruited" so that the unit can obtain the services of a regular army training instructor and an aide No meeting dates have been set

Any person with air corps service is eligible—both officers and enlisted men The unit is not restricted to any certain area It can accept applications from anyone willing to make the trips to the meetings, which probably will be monthly.

The reserve unit is being created to replace the 321th Bomb Group which was deactivated on June 28 Many of the members of the 328th have since joined the 433rd Troop Carrier Wing in Cleveland

The applications should be mailed to Essick or to Headquarters, Ninth Air Force, Langley Field, Va

It's Year-Round Disease

Many Get Polio, Suffer No Ill Effect

By MARGUERITE MILLER
(Fourth of a Series)

Infantile paralysis, often thought to be peculiar to the summer season, is a year-round disease Furthermore, research has found that 85 per cent of the population have contracted the disease at one time or another without suffering ill effects.

Those were two of the more startling statements made in an interview with Dr. Charles R. Freeble, chief of the Division of Communicable Diseases of the State Health department.

"Poliomyelitis is not something that disappears with the first frost as many people believe," Dr. Freeble said. "From Jan. 1 to June 30, 19 cases of the disease were reported in Ohio."

Although the "peak season" for the disease includes July, August and September, cases are reported as late as December and continue to break out through the coldest winter months The division chief added that 170 cases have been reported to date in the state. Mansfield has had only one case reported so far

Recent isolation of the virus which causes the disease has made research on uncontrolled groups possible

"The only cases of polio you hear about are the ones that have been diagnosed," Dr Freeble continued. "Research has found that 85 per cent of the people have had it without crippling effects.

"For every one paralytic case, 25 cases are abortive or non-paralytic," the doctor added.

While research toward the origin and control of the disease has been decidely furthered in recent years by public funds, scientists are still uncertain of the conditions under which the virus multiplies or how it is spread.

"Everytime there seems to be a good lead on polio scientists run into a stone wall," Dr. Freeble continued. "One reason for the slow process of experimentation is the fact that experiments are only successfull on monkeys which are very expensive. And each experiment means sacrificing a monkey.

"There are a few things they do know about polio. They know it's caused by a virus— one of the smallest known. They also know that they can infect monkeys with the disease only by injecting the virus into the brain or spraying it into the nose or mouth. You can feed all the polio virus infected material you want to monkeys and they won't get the disease

"For that reason," he said, "researchers now believe that the disease is spread by respiratory transmission "

But there's also a "stone wall" to that theory, Dr. Freeble said. If the disease is transmitted by sneezing and coughing, why is not the disease more prevalent in winter when closed houses and buildings bring people in closer contact"

Care of food and self during the polio peak season is "just good personal hygiene." according to the doctor. There's no positive proof that observance of the health suggestions will ward off polio.

Dr. Freeble enlarged on this by relating how two counties in southern Ohio, both with epidemics of diarrhea, were isolated

"One of the counties," he said, "was sprayed from one end to the other with DDT. Sanitation was carefully checked and the best health rules were carried out.

"The other county was left untouched by DDT or other measures.

Then, in the middle of the experiment, a pretty sizeable outbreak of polio occurred — not in the unsprayed county—but in the county which had literally drowned in DDT."

A few years ago, the doctor said, it was a "foregone conclusion that the disease was only for children. Now, you'll find more and more cases of adult victims.

"The fact is that the chance for exposure to polio has been lessened in childhood, leaving the adults more susceptible to the disease."

According to a report from R M. Porter, superintendent of Children's Hospital, Columbus, polio occurred considerably later this year than last year. The first case in Ohio was reported the middle of July and cases are averaging 10 a week at the hospital.

Last year, the first case was brought in on May 20 and cases ranged between 2 and 5 per week until Oct. 1 when the "peak" was hit.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE FOUR — MANSFIELD, OHIO, MONDAY, AUGUST 8, 1949

Headline: "Horse Book Joint Raided"—but don't jump at conclusions—that was in Lorain, not Mansfield.

Investigators claim that a suit of clothing is burdened by 116 hidden taxes—which probably doesn't include the Ohio sales tax, this being plainly visible.

An effort is being made to increase interest in horseback riding—and this is one means of transportation in which models are unchanged from year to year.

Gains In Farm Equipment Industry

CLOSE CONNECTION between agricultural and industrial prosperity is seen in an article in yesterday's News-Journal telling of increased employment in Mansfield industries which produce a variety of equipment needed by farmers.

It is recalled that Mansfield's first claim to national prominence centered around an industry founded in 1867 for the manufacture of farm equipment—the Aultman & Taylor Co.—which devoted first attention to manufacture of improved threshing machines and which was a thriving local industry until well after the turn of the century.

In 1874 the Roderick Lean Manufacturing Co. was established here, this also having been devoted to manufacture of agricultural implements which gained nationwide recognition for excellence. This has since become the present Farm Tools Corp., which is noting an increase in demands for its products and is anticipating a return to full production by mid-October.

The Martin Steel Products Corp., manufacturer of buildings required for farm use, also reports an upturn of business which will require expansion of facilities, with considerable increase in employment.

While rural and urban interests link closely in the production and distribution of practically all commodities, it is particularly gratifying to note evidence of prosperity among farmers, who play such an important part in providing city dwellers with basic needs.

August Popular Vacation Month

WHILE May through September is the five-month period commonly given to vacations, this month of August really marks the high point of the summer vacation season.

Consequently there are more cars on the highways, more people at pleasure resorts, more swimmers in the water, and more fishermen at lakes or along streams.

All of this is designed for pleasure and relaxation, so it is particularly horrifying when tragedy breaks in on a vacation trip or day's outing.

There are the hazards of motoring to be guarded against as well as the perils of swimming and boating: also the inclination toward over-exertion in an effort to crowd too much fun into a short time.

Vacations have come to be a traditional part of American life, and are to be encouraged in every possible way, but common sense dictates that they should be planned and carried through with a minimum of danger, else they can be sorrowful occasions instead of becoming pleasant recollections.

Average Life-Span Extended

ACCORDING to a statistical bulletin published by a large life insurance company, a typical baby girl born in 1900 could count on surviving for 50 years. In 1946, the expectancy was 69 years.

In the last 20 years, according to the same study, maternal deaths connected with child bearing has dropped to one-fifth of the former prevailing rate. In a brief period of time there has been an amazingly heavy decline in child death rates from such diseases as measles, diphtheria and scarlet fever.

Such facts as these have a great significance today, because of the organized effort now being made to force this country to accept compulsory government health insurance, on the theory that our health standards are woefully low. The truth is that during the present century absolutely revolutionary progress has been made in treating the ill, in preventive medicine, and in improving longevity.

Study of Economics Advised

IT IS OFTEN forgotten that wages and prices, far from being independent commodities arbitrarily directed, are inter-related and governed by the laws of economics.

Richard E. Howe, a tool-maker and a labor union delegate to a social science conference in New York City, declared that the basic elements of economic theory could and must be taught to average American workers. Having less to unlearn, they should grasp economics more easily than some other groups, said this worker.

Unreasonable demands are sometimes laid to labor leaders and their followers, and blamed on lack of knowledge of the workings of economic laws. Perhaps instruction along these lines would help toward clearer thinking.

Things That People Don't Have

IF YOU WANT to be happy, philosophers have advised, think not about the things you desire but about the things you have. But that philosophy has no place in American business, it can be gathered from an address to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce by Charles Luckman, president of Lever Brothers company.

He said 18 million Americans live in homes without washing machines, 25 millions in homes with no vacuum cleaner and 27 million in homes with no kitchen sink, and 40 million have neither bathtub nor shower.

He said if Americans think of things like these which millions do not yet have, they might conclude that there is certainly no reason to have a depression at least until these needs are filled

Washington Calling

Britain Calls For More

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THE JOINT chiefs of staff on their hurry-up tour of Europe are listening to a great many hard-luck stories and many an urgent plea for immediate help. But the case the British presented in London is perhaps more impressively documented than any tale unfolded before the visiting military men.

The defense budget of the United Kingdom for the fiscal year 1949-50 is $3,040,000,000. This compares with the military budget of the French for the same period which is $1,312,000,000.

Greater stress is put on the fact that Britain is maintaining 793,000 in the armed forces. This is 3.35 percent of the total working population of about 23,000,000 and 1.55 percent of the over-all population of 50,000,000.

According to plan, the total in the armed forces will drop to 750,000 in 1950. But at the same time in trouble spots, such as the colony of Hong Kong and in Malaya, the British feel compelled to increase their forces substantially.

The present force is double anything previously maintained except immediately after World War I and immediately before World War II. To keep the forces at this level a system of universal national service is in effect which requires national service men to spend 18 months in full-time service and four years in part-time service with the reserve and auxiliary forces.

The British case includes a list of war materials transferred to the other Western Union — the Netherlands, France, Belgium and Luxembourg — powers not merely out of surplus but out of new production. The expectation is that by next January the British will have contributed a large number of radar stations and a considerable number of airplanes, a high proportion of them Vampire and Meteor jet fighters.

Britain lists 450 ships transferred, lent or sold to Western Union and Commonwealth countries with a few to other nations. Two light fleet carriers, seven destroyers, seven frigates, five submarines and 33 mine-sweepers have gone to the Commonwealth or Western Union.

Norway, Denmark, Portugal, Italy, Greece and Turkey have shared 22 destroyers, nine frigates, 16 Corvettes, 18 submarines and about 70 minesweepers.

* * *

Will Ask More Help.

THE joint chiefs of staff also heard about the high cost of maintaining bases on the strategic pieces of geography around the globe that still fly the Union Jack. Our own JCS did not need to be told how vital are such spots, as Gibraltar, Malta, Cyprus, Aden and Singapore.

The impressive case made by the British was not solely for the benefit of the visiting military men. It will play a large part in the discussions to be held here at the end of August. It is hardly an exaggeration to say that on the outcome of those talks the future of British-U. S. relations will turn.

Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin will arrive September 1. A day or two later Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer who is now in Switzerland convalescing from the recurrence of a stomach ailment, will join him.

Flanked by their experts, they will almost immediately go into session with Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder and Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

The two ministers of state are prepared to say that Britain cannot go on paying her heavy defense bill unless some major adjustment is made and quickly.

Recently the British requested nearly $600,000,000 in additional European aid. In order to grant this request, the amounts allocated to other ECA nations would have to be drastically reduced.

If Britain cut back her defenses in the far corners of the earth, then still other power vacuums would be created to go by default to communism unless the United States stepped in.

Frankly Speaking

Uncle Sam 'Up a Tree'

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — This country doesn't know what to do next. That's about the best that can be said of the United States policy toward China now.

The communists are in control there. This country doesn't like it. But what this country should do about it is something that hasn't been figured out yet. It's up a tree.

That's what you have left when you cut through a river of words that came out of the state department in a 1,054-page report, called a "white paper," explaining why things went wrong in China.

Summed up, the paper says:

1. The Chinese communists have taken over most of the country and can take over all of it, any time they want to.

2. The only opposition to the communists — the Nationalist government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek — was rotten and it's not worth a dime anymore.

3. This government had helped Chiang's outfit but has washed its hands of the Chiang crew now. And that polishes off the last real block inside China to the communists.

The white paper says more. We were in there pitching for Chiang, and we poured help into him, but he didn't know what to do with it. He was bullheaded, and he blew the help we gave, and messed up his armies. And instead of reforming his rotten government into one the Chinese people could have faith in and rally round, he let it stay rotten. The government and his armies melted away and the communists took over.

* * *

No Solution Offered.

THAT'S a pretty gloomy picture in the white paper, when you remember it's a great boon to Russia to have a communist China by its side and a great blow to this country since a huge chunk of friendly Asia is lost to us.

In fact, Secretary of State Acheson told a news conference when the white paper was released, the Chinese communists are Russian stooges, ready to sneeze when Russia feels a draft.

But Acheson tried to throw a cheery note into the China disaster by saying he's not "defeatist" about it at all. Indeed, he went further and said:

The U. S. is willing to help the Chinese people establish true independence. But the $64 question — how? — Was something he didn't answer.

All he could do was list five principles for this country's attitude toward China. They said, in effect, we'd like to help the Chinese people get rid of Moscow's Chinese lieutenants. And he said the problem of how to do it is being studied.

But the Chinese communists, if they're like communists everywhere else and they seem to be, will rule the people with an iron hand. And that ought to be pretty good in keeping down any outbreaks against the communist regime, particularly since there's no real military opposition left.

That's going to make it very tough, if not impossible, for this government to do anything for any of the Chinese people who'd like a different kind of government.

Dave Boone Says:

THE free hand given the President in deciding who to help and for how much is scaring some senators in their consideration of that billion and a half arms-to-Europe bill. Harry's inclination to shoot the works for a friend is well known and there's no telling how far he would go for a nation he could call a pal.

* * *

Suppose some country in asking for favors told Harry it used to know him away back in his Kansas City days".

* * *

He might develop a strong liking for a nation because it told a story well, played a fair game of poker and was good natured at all times, some senators think.

* * *

A billion and a half dollars is a lot of money for one person to handle, or used to be. Today we all have such big ideas, however, that it wouldn't bother us much.

As Cerf Says:

Colonel Tachau of Kentucky always closed his eyes when he drank a mint julep, and one day a New Yorker asked him why. "The sight of a well-made julep, suh," explained the colonel, "invariably makes my mouth water, suh, and I do not care to dilute my drink."

A Voice From the Country

Possible Senate Probe Causes Worry

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — One thing the Senate investigating subcommittee is likely to avoid in its probe of Messrs. Vaughan and Maragon which opens today is the part they may have played in influencing the Truman doctrine for Greece.

It seems inconceivable that an ex-Greek federal narcotics agent from Kansas City should have had anything to do with U. S. foreign relations.

Yet it happens that members of the Greek embassy in Washington are now as jittery as sunflowers in a Kansas cyclone for fear their relations with John Maragon will be probed by the Senate.

Every administration has its hangers-on, who love to bask in the limelight of the White House. But no administration since Warren Harding's day has had the benefit of such a weird and apparently influential character as General Vaughan's so-called "Greek adviser," John Maragon.

* * *

Maragon's Record.

DISTRICT of Columbia police records show that Maragon once pleaded guilty of transporting liquor (7-17-20), was three times arrested for disorderly conduct but never prosecuted, and once got into a brawl in the locker room of the Washington Senators where some of the ball players threatened to beat him up.

Maragon also got into a fist fight with Don Watson, chief of the state department's transportation section at the United Nations convention at San Francisco; was fired by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad; got into a street scuffle with Brig. Gen. Wm. L. Lee in Rome, Italy; was found to be distributing anti-semitic literature at the Democratic convention in Philadelphia last year; and was questioned in the death of police detective Arthur Scriviner in 1926, one of Washington's most mysterious homicide cases.

Maragon established an alibi and later married the girl whom Scriviner was scheduled to marry one day after his death.

Yet, on top of all this, the amazing Maragon turned up at the White House 30 minutes after President Roosevelt died to console President Truman, accompanied the Roosevelt funeral train to Hyde Park; showed up at the Stalin-Churchill conference in Potsdam, was the proud possessor of a White House pass, flabbergasted the admirals by accompanying Truman on the presidential destroyer during the Navy day fleet review in New York, sat next to the President's box with General Vaughan during the Army-Navy game, and even had a private compartment on the special train that carried the President to the game.

Maragon's influence with his old friend, Harry Truman, has been on the wane since first exposed in this column two years ago. But his influence with Harry Vaughan appears just as strong as ever.

When Maragon wants to see the President's military aide, he goes to the east wing of the White House, tells the guard that Vaughan wants him, and usually he gets in.

* * *

Truman Doctrine In Greece.

MARAGON'S influence was near its zenith in the winter of 1947 when the famous Truman Doctrine for aid to Greece was formulated.

That the amazing Maragon directly inspired Greek policy is doubtful. That he and Vaughan influenced it indirectly is more than probable.

The Truman Doctrine for Greece, it will be recalled, was announced in March, 1947, shortly after Jimmie Byrnes retired as secretary of state.

One of the things Gen. Vaughan constantly needled Truman about was that Byrnes was too much his own boss, that people talked of the "Byrnes Policy," not the "Truman Policy," and that Truman should get more credit for directing foreign affairs. This was one reason there was so much emphasis on calling the new move in Greece the "Truman Doctrine" at the time it was announced.

That doctrine, which has now cost us $1,000,000,000 plus, was precipitated when the British notified us they were pulling out of Greece. But the manner in which the doctrine favored certain Greek political factions has been influenced by two Greek callers whom Maragon steered to the White House — Archbishop Athenagoras and Rev. Thomas Daniel of the Greek Orthodox church.

* * *

Truman's Greek Caller.

JUST why Rev. Daniel should be admitted to the White House at all is hard to understand. Obviously a very close "friend" of the President arranged the appointment, and obviously also "friend" Vaughan did not go to any pains to scrutinize Daniel's record.

For in 1916 Rev. Daniel was found to have committed adultery in the divorce suit of Christie and Marietta Heris of New Haven, Conn. (Superior court of New Haven, July 27, 1917, Judge Donald T. Warner presiding).

In 1922 Daniel was charged with grand larceny in the theft of jewels and clothing valued at $650 at Atlantic City, N. J., but was dismissed for lack of evidence. (Case 57262 Atlantic City criminal court, Aug. 29, 1922, Magistrate Paxson.)

In 1925 Daniel was again cited for adultery in the divorce of Harry and Catherine Coroneos. (Court of common pleas, Philadelphia). Again on July 22, 1930, Rev. Daniel was arrested for drunkenness in the District of Columbia and forfeited security. (District of Columbia police court case No. 930503).

This is one of the Greek advisers whom General Vaughan and the mysterious Maragon steered into the White House for talks with the unsuspecting and trusting Mr. Truman while the vitally important "Truman Doctrine" for Greece was being formulated.

Meanwhile, Maragon stood so well with the White House that he had had himself appointed as a special observer for the Greek elections, though he was finally fired from the job by U. S. envoy Henry Grady after a row in Athens.

No wonder Greek embassy officials are worried sick for fear the Senate investigating subcommittee may get too inquisitive regarding the operations of the amazing Maragon in regard to Greece.

Assignment: America

That's Telling Them!

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK — Foley Square is a misnomer for a small, green park set down among the spreading state and federal court buildings just above Brooklyn bridge and the old architectural gem that is city hall.

It is, in reality, a triangular oasis that has been a god-send this torrid summer to dozens of young Chinese-American mothers who wheel their small-fry from the humid confines of Chinatown down the old Bowery to the square.

The almost naked babies look fat and placid in their carriages, and the mothers trim and pretty in American cottons. They sit under the trees and exchange neighborhood gossip and feeding formulas.

Sometimes a Chinese grandparent, a half dozen children in tow, keeps a lively eye on his charges. At noontime, employes from the nearby skyscrapers swarm into the park to eat their lunches.

But from time to time, something new is added to this tranquil scene.

That something is the noisy communist pickets who fill the apex of the triangle, fronting the federal court house where the American politboro is now on trial, whenever the party orders another demonstration against Presiding Judge Harold R. Medina.

The pickets had been ordered out last week-end when I stopped in for another look at the marathon trial, now in its thirtieth week. The party had decreed a demonstration after the patient judge's sharp crack-down on the legal delaying tactics that have been a major part of defense strategy since the trial began last January.

But it was a hot, muggy day. Only a handful of the faithful was there to walk the picket line. The men and women looked as frayed as the signs they have obediently carried off and on for months. The heat had got 'em. Obviously, the party had scraped the bottom of the barrel to get a maximum of forty pickets. Mostly middle-aged housewives.

Even their chanting of a new slogan, thought up for the occasion, "The reichstag in '33, Foley Square today!" lacked oomph and bounce, only one new banner appeared among the time-tried ones denouncing the judge and the trial. It read "Judge Medina, Are You Judge or Prosecutor?

* * *

No More Nonsense, Please.

INSIDE the air-conditioned court room, Judge Medina, looking thin and owlish behind his horn-rimmed specs, rocked slowly back and forth as usual on the high bench. But a peace that passeth understanding pervaded in his court where, in the past, so much noisy wrangling has marked the conduct of the eleven defendants and their lawyers.

The judge had turned their damper down the day before when he held two defense attorneys in contempt and four times called on court marshals to force defense counsel to sit down when counsel ignored the court's order to do so.

Except for the dreary pickets outside, I seemed a day late for the fireworks. The trial droned on with a minor party functionary, Samuel J. Hall, jr. of Birmingham, Ala., on the stand.

Then, quite unexpectedly following a relatively quiet argument between opposing counsel, Judge Medina delivered his second haymaker to the defense within 24-hours.

In his quiet, scholarly voice, Judge Medina delivered his roundhouse punch when he said that in the future he would jail any defense witness who refused to answer a question when so directed by the court.

Throughout the long conspiracy trial of the party's top eleven leaders, defense witnesses have consistently refused to reveal the names of other party members or associates on cross examination.

One witness testified his refusal was based on advice of Eugene Dennis, one of the defendants and general secretary of the party, and after consultation with Harry Sacher, a defense attorney.

But from now on the party, figuratively speaking, must decide whether 'tis better to kiss and tell or languish in durance vile.

What the party will ultimately decide to do is anybody's guess, but I'm willing to wager a fin on pickets in Foley Square today.

First Aid In Poisoning

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

SO LONG as childish curiosity endures and dangerous substances are used around the house, I am afraid we shall have cases of accidental poisoning.

Every parent should have the knowledge to meet an emergency of this kind since first aid, quickly and properly administered, may be the means of saving a child's life or, in less desperate situations, prevent damage which would mean a permanent handicap.

One of the most common types of poisoning is that from preparations containing lye, such as cleaning solutions and washing powders.

Diluted Vinegar.

In these cases the child should be given diluted vinegar or lemon juice at once. These acid substances will neutralize the alkali. Unfortunately, lye is very caustic and may often burn not only the mouth but the lining membrane of the esophagus as well, leading from the mouth to the stomach. If it is severly damaged by the lye, scar tissue is likely to develop which will close the opening.

Hence, immediate steps must be taken to keep such a condition from developing. This is done by passing through the esophagus a rubber tube filled with mercury. The size of the rubber tube is gradually increased, and this procedure is carried out over intervals of at least a year.

Another common type of poisoning is that from kerosene. In such cases, the stomach must be washed out by a physician. Then a quantity of olive oil or mineral oil is left in the stomach. Kerosene poisoning may produce damage to the liver, kidneys, lungs, and heart.

Sodium fluoride is another poisonous substance which is found in insecticide powders. Should such poison be accidentally swallowed, the poison should be washed out immediately with a solution of calcium chloride or calcium lactate. Injections of calcium should also be given into a vein or muscle.

Call a Doctor.

In urging parents to learn first aid procedures to deal with such situations, I do not mean to suggest that they should ever attempt to handle them without a doctor's aid. He should be summoned at once but it is equally essential that they know what to do while waiting for him to arrive.

It goes without saying that parents should do all in their power to prevent such accidents by keeping poisonous substances out of the child's reach.

Mansfield Merchants rang up $65,000,000 in 1948

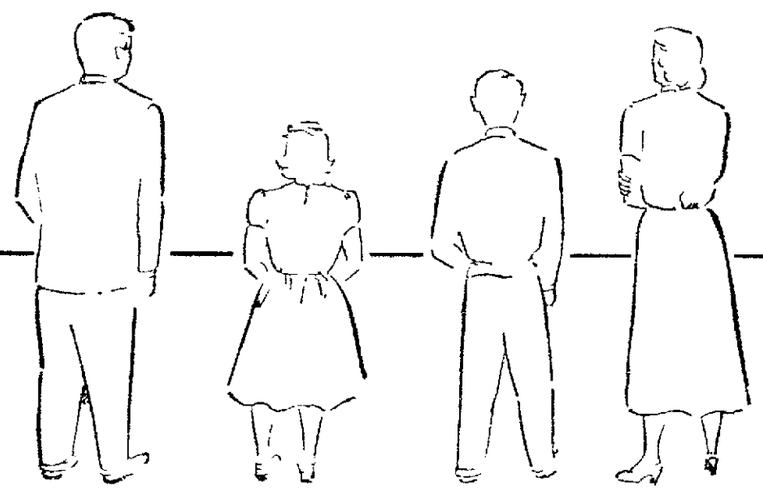
Last year thousands of families in North Central Ohio spent more than $65,000,000 00 in Mansfield stores. When you think of this amount in terms of the average small purchase, you can see that Mansfield merchants have a big job on their hands. To enable shoppers to pick and choose the particular piece of merchandise they wanted, Mansfield retailers went into their respective markets to get the best possible goods to sell at the lowest possible price In so doing Mansfield's merchants encouraged competition between manufacturers. Naturally they competed among themselves. In both cases the consumer benefitted by getting better goods at cheaper prices.

These thousands of families are responsible for what Mansfield merchants offer for sale in the stores. Every storekeeper in town knows that by selling customers an article they want at a price they're willing to pay, he's sure of doing business. Regardless of what you're shopping for: a bedroom suite, a dress, a range, or a gallon of paint —you're the boss of every Mansfield merchant. You'll get the best possible buy, because Mansfield merchants are counting on your continued purchases.



Meet the Smith family

THEY'RE MIGHTY IMPORTANT TO EVERY BUSINESS IN MANSFIELD

Meet Don and Mary Smith, president and general manager of the Smiths, a typical family in the Mansfield area. In their own way, the Smiths are also a typical Mansfield business. Don earns his living here, and both he and Mary are inclined to spend their money in Mansfield. When it comes to shopping, they try Mansfield first. It's convenient, and it's usually pleasanter to deal with home-town merchants. But Don and Mary Smith will buy only if they're getting real satisfaction. In this and future presentations, Mansfield merchants will point out important "satisfaction standards" which make Mansfield the best place to shop for the Smiths and every other consumer in North-Central Ohio.

The following merchants are publishing this series of advertisements in order to better acquaint the people in this area with the efforts which they are making to serve them:—
